

President's Message

So this is the farewell message from your soon-to-be immediate past President. As I look back on this year, I marvel at what we were all able to accomplish. I'm so proud of all of the Officers and Directors that made the CEC so successful. I also want to recognize and thank all our members who participated in any of our monthly meetings, our webinars or our community service events. We truly had an amazing and extremely successful year with great participation in our meetings and webinars, great speakers, and the generosity in our community service events was second to none. I would like to, on behalf of the CEC board, thank all of you for making this past year so great.

As I finished up my time as President, I had time to not only reflect on this past year, but also look forward to the following year. I'm so happy to see so many new faces participating in the CEC, and so many new people coming out to see what the AGA is about and subsequently becoming members. This upcoming year looks to be another great year as we look to continue the success from past years, as well as find new avenues to grow the Chapter and our footprint in the community through our generosity.

I hope you all have a wonderful Spring and Summer and the Chapter Executive Committee looks forward to seeing you all again in September.

Respectively,
Phillip A. Platt, CGFM

UPCOMING TRAINING

AGA is pleased to announce its latest web conference on Beyond the Code: Ethical Decision Making in the Real World.

Ethical thinking and behavior, so critical to our reputation and in our lives and organizations, has been studied as a vague and intangible subject. Ethical models have been translated into “rules-based” codes, failing time and time again and leaving us wondering how we can address ethics in a meaningful way. Indeed, new research shows that some ethics education courses leave students making less ethical decisions than before the class. Ethical decisions are not simply a discussion of right or wrong, but skilled critical thinking on a continuum of complicated choices studied by behavioral science. These decisions can be heavily influenced by unconscious biases and poorly framed perceptions. This innovative and interactive presentation uses compelling real-world events and the latest behavioral research to examine ethical thinking in a real-world context, giving attendees new thinking tools and a new perspective on what ethical thinking really is and how to practice it.

Highlights:

- ◆ What “Tone at the Top” is and why we misunderstand how it works
- ◆ How to use critical thinking in ethical situations
- ◆ Why ethical decisions rely on "situational awareness"
- ◆ The science behind decision-making under pressure
- ◆ How and why we should eliminate outcome-based thinking
- ◆ How a “model” code of ethics can fail
- ◆ Recognizing our own sub-conscious thinking biases..

Speaker: Toby Groves, President, Groves Research and Consulting

Learning Objectives: Identify and understand concepts of critical thinking and apply them to professional judgment in auditing, accounting and governance situations.

Prerequisite: None

Date: Wednesday, May 13, 2015

Time: 2 – 3:50 p.m. Eastern Time

CPE: Two credit hours

Field of Study: Ethics

UPCOMING TRAINING

AGA is pleased to announce its latest web conference on Update and Implications of DATA (Digital Accountability & Transparency) Act: “Beyond the Beltway”

Building and maintaining public trust and confidence is one of the most important goals for all those that work for and with government agencies. USASpending.gov was a tremendous first step after the 2009 financial crisis, to capture federal spending information for the American taxpayer – and provide accountability and transparency for protecting public funds from fraud and abuse. The DATA ACT builds upon this foundation, to ensure enhanced availability, accuracy, and usefulness of federal spending information to help ensure government program effectiveness and mission accomplishment, which contributes to building public trust and confidence in government. This web conference will present:

- ◇ Brief recap on current status of DATA ACT, including intentions of Congress in passing Pub.L.113-101
- ◇ Efforts underway to improve Federal spending information, across all business areas, to include financial data standards government-wide (Federal, State, Local);
- ◇ Implications at State and Local levels – the ripple effect
- ◇ What’s happening in the Financial Services/Regulatory community?

Speakers:

- ◇ Christina Ho, Deputy Assistant Secretary for Accounting Policy and Financial Transparency – U. S. Department of the Treasury
- ◇ Hudson Hollister, Executive Director – Data Transparency Coalition
- ◇ LeAntha Sumpter, Deputy Director, Program Development and Implementation, Defense Procurement and Acquisition Policy in the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense

Moderator: Debra Delmar, Managing Partner - Vanguard Advisors LLC – and Vice Chair, Defense – AGA Corporate-Partner Financial Systems & Technology Committee

Learning Objectives: Understand current approaches and actions underway, and their implications, to improve availability, accuracy, and usefulness of Federal spending information of the DATA Act. Transparency of information is across all business areas [acquisition/procurement, financial, human capital, logistics, IT, etc] . Of particular interest is the State and Local communities [trickle down affect] and the Department of Defense’s operationalizing of therequirement, given they are 50% of the Federal Government’s annual discretionary spending

Prerequisite: None

Date: Wednesday, June 3, 2015

Time: 2 – 3:50 p.m. Eastern Time

CPE: Two credit hours

Field of Study: Accounting (Governmental)

Past Meeting Recap

The past monthly meeting was held on April 14th at the Senator Inn in Augusta.

The meeting was called to order by Chapter President, Phillip Platt, who quickly went over the voting ballots for the new CEC board and reminded folks of the upcoming community service event, the “Bowl For Kids’ Sake”, which is to sponsor the Big Brothers Big Sisters of Mid-Maine. Derek Gorneau then introduced our speaker, Terry Hayes, who is Maine’s State Treasurer.

Treasurer Hayes brought with her an exciting way to discuss the duties within the Treasurer’s Office. A spinning wheel with duties notated at each spoke. As members of our Chapter rose the spin the wheel, whatever subject it landed on, the Treasurer would discuss. A very humorous and educational meeting.
